Coin World Buys Paper In Tennessee

Coin World has purchased the Numismatic Advertiser, a semi-monthly coin newspaper published at Memphis, Tennessee.

Each paid subscriber to the Numismatic Advertiser will receive Coin World instead of the Tennessee publication for the duration of his Advertiser subscription.

Subscribers who take Coin World and the Numismatic Advertiser will have their Coin World subscriptions extended.

Advertisers in the discontinued publication are being welcomed individually to join the pages of Coin World in personal letters.

Announcement of the purchase came this week from Coin World officers—D. Wayne Johnson, editor and advertising manager; J. Oliver Amos, business manager; and Cecil Watkins, circulation director.

Milton Goldberger, advertising manager of the Advertiser, in commenting upon the sale, said Coin World is "a much larger and finer weekly numismatic publication."

"Coin World success," he continued, "has been one of the most amazing feats in modern journalism. They have brought to the field the kind of a publication which will stimulate coin collecting throughout the United States."

Goldberger also expressed his gratitude to Numismatic Advertiser subscribers and advertisers for their support during the existence of the publication.

Coin World, a division of The Sidney Printing and Publishing Company, in Sidney, Ohio, already has set wheels in motion to absorb the Advertiser publication into its operation. Subscribers should start receiving their weekly Coin World not later than December 8.

Hobby publications are a specialty of the Sidney publishing firm—it has printed Linn's Weekly Stamp News for the past 20 years.

U.S.S. Enterprise Launching Commemorated On New Medal

December 11 Set As Date For Release

A medal commemorating a significant milestone in the Atomic Age—the launching of the U.S.S. Enterprise—will be available about December 11.

The Enterprise, the world's largest ship and the first nuclear powered aircraft carrier, was recently christened and launched on September 24, 1960.

This authorized medal has been struck by the Medallic Art Company of New York from designs created by the art staff of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company of Newport News, Virginia, and executed in bas-relief by the New York sculptor, Ralph Menconi.

Other official commemorative medals recently struck by the Medallic Art Company include Alaska Statehood, Hawaiian Statehood, and Santa Fe's 350th Anniversary, each being of the large 2½ inch size.

The U.S.S. Enterprise medal is being distributed nationally by the Coin and Currency Institute of New York and California, and is available in bronze or silver, each a handsome two and one-half inches in diameter.

It bears the same obverse as a much smaller medal with different reverse design which was given as a token to those present at the actual launching ceremony.

Each medal will be furnished with a descriptive leaflet with additional information concerning the event, medalist, and sculptor.

Obverse design depicts an impressive side view of the U.S.S. Enterprise, featuring the overall length, and bears the legend

Gold Ducats To Be Struck

The Netherlands Twentsche Bank is going to reintroduce the sale of gold coins to meet public demand for the first time since 1937, according to a news dispatch from The Hague.

On November 11 the bank officially announced it had ordered the state mint to make 3,605 gold ducats. These are to be sold for 27.50 guilders (about $7) each.

The coins are highly popular with collectors, the bank spokesman said, and many people now prefer gold coinage to ordinary notes. These two factors were deciding factors in reissuance of the coins.

The ducat will bear the words, "Concordia Res Parvae Crescunt," which translated means union is strength. The date will be 1960.

Kansas City Numismatic Mecca Soon

With 18 trophies to be awarded for exhibits, and more than 70 bourse tables expected to be occupied, the second annual Heart of America Numismatic Association's Midwest Coin Show, slated for Hotel Muehlebach, Kansas City, November 26-27, promises to be one of the highlights of numismatics of 1960.

First, second and third place winners in each of six classifications of exhibits will receive large 18 inch trophies, to be given at a special breakfast, Sunday morning.

The classes include United States coins, foreign coins, paper money, medals and decorations and miscellaneous, United States gold, and foreign gold.

Dealers from coast to coast have reserved bourse tables, and some of the most desirable items in the collecting field will be available.

Although official, scheduled to open Saturday morning, the Show will start informally Friday evening. The auction is slated for Saturday night. Value of special and competitive exhibits is expected to run into the million dollar bracket, with some of the rarest examples of coins, currency, medals and tokens to be on display.

Co-chairmen for the event are Ralph Bondon and Ray O. Lefman, both of Kansas City.

Minor Dealer Wanted By Police

An all-points missing person bulletin, coupled with a series of bad check warrants, is out for John J. Miczek, 17-year-old Corry, Pennsylvania, coin "dealer" who left a trail of bouncing checks over at least three states since November 1, according to Corry officials.

Miczek, whose business address was at 25½ North Center Street, Corry, has written several hundred dollars worth of checks without sufficient funds, Corry Police Chief H. M. Drake told Coin World.

Uneasy and irate mail order customers have started to complain, and this has brought the Philadelphia postal authorities into the case, Chief Drake disclosed.

Miczek first drew police attention when his mother, Mrs.

Sophie Borsa, of Corry, reported him missing from home November 1.

First official complaint on the bad check proceedings came from Curtis G. Langworthy, Jamestown, New York, coin dealer who said two Miczek checks for $200 and $115 in payment of a purchase had been returned marked insufficient funds. The transaction took place November 2.

Dayton, Ohio, apparently was the scene of Miczek's next series of operations. Several dealers attending the Penn-Ohio convention there November 4-6 reported a young man of Miczek's description bought one, two and a half and five dollar gold coins in $100 lots with allegedly "rubber" checks.

Corry Police Chief Drake said time in two months Philadelphia began to coin dimes, and October's release figure was 35,880,000. Denver did not issue dimes in October.

Dime production figures follow the 1960 increase figure, too. For the first 10 months of 1960 the dime mintage figure stands at 258,870,400. In 1959 at this time a total of 219,161,400 dimes had been struck.

Other 10 months' totals for 1960 are:

Quarters: 72,148,324.
Halves: 24,239,812.

Proof sets: 1,383,248.

This means that 3,084,548 more quarters, 6,157,052 more halves and 651,360 more proof sets were struck this year than in 1959.

October proof set tallies from Philadelphia stood at 177,850, bringing this total to the 1,383,248 mark.

Philadelphia has not coined quarters for four months nor halves for five months.

In 1959 neither Mint issued halves from July through October.

Coin World's 10 months cumulative Mint report can be found in Page 24 of this issue.

his department had tallied at least $700 in bad checks, attributed to Miczek up to November 16. There are four warrants for his arrest to date.

Chief Drake said Miczek has been dealing in coins for several months with a small office in downtown Corry, and apparently had a good reputation.

A month ago, however, the police received a complaint from a Michigan customer who failed to receive $2.50 worth of coins. The young dealer immediately sent the money to his dissatisfied customer.

Miczek has advertised in Coin World for several months without declaring himself as a minor, and without complying with regula-

American Overcharged, Expert Says

If M. B. Goldman Jr., of Phoenix, paid $15 for two Tyrian shekels he paid five times as much as an Israel collector would have given!

Leo Kadman, president of the Israel Numismatic Society, Tel Aviv, made this statement to Coin World after he read in the September 22 issue the prices allegedly paid in Israel for Tyrian shekels, said to be from the "Mount Carmel hoard."

"Only last week," Kadman wrote under the date of November 2, "we bought some 10 Tyrian shekels of extremely fine conservation, practically in the mint state for $3 each."

One hundred and fifty dollars which Goldman supposes to be

New Stores Open In Denver Area

The Denver, Colorado, area has two new coin stores, both opened in recent months.

Opening in September was the Coin Department of Richard's Boat Shop, 2032 Clinton Street, Aurora, Colorado. On October 2, the Coin City Coin Shop opened its doors at 1505 Champa, Denver.

Both carry a representative stock of coins, old and new, and several lines of accessories, Whitman folders and albums.

Medal Uses Navy Insignia

"WORLD'S LARGEST SHIP" and "FIRST NUCLEAR POWERED AIRCRAFT CARRIER."

On the reverse is shown the official insignia of the U.S. Navy for whom the ship is being constructed. This surmounts a decorative scroll with additional inscription concerning date and place of launching.

Of further interest is the handsome seal of the Newport News Shipbuilding and Drydock Company, builders of the U.S.S. Enterprise and many other modern vessels for the U.S. Navy.

Although the ship was built and is being equipped in Newport News in the largest private shipyard, the newest aircraft carrier is being made of materials and equipment supplied by hundreds of American manufacturers.

Some indication of the tremendous size of the Enterprise is given by the fact that the flight deck consists of an area of nearly 4½ acres, the length of this deck being equal to five city blocks.

When commissioned, there will be facilities for the accommodation of 4,600 officers and men.

Two and a half years were consumed for construction up to the time of launching, and another year will be required in outfitting before she is commissioned.

The new carrier was christened by Mrs. William B. Franke, wife of the secretary of the Navy.

The silver medals will be struck in fine silver and will be limited to 5,000 serially numbered pieces. Bronze medals will be available in sufficient quantities to meet the expected demand. Availability date will be approximately December 11.

Collector Gives Testimony, Dies

Homer H. Robertson, Centralia, Illinois, died recently. But he lived long enough to send to prison a man who stole his coin collection.

Robertson had stored his collection in Hillsboro, Illinois. It was stolen, and the suspected thief, Donald Robinson, Hillsboro, was arrested.

At the trial, Robertson testified, and died 12 hours later. The jury convicted Robinson, and he was later sentenced to five to 15 years in prison.

Robertson did not know the results of the trial. He had been in ill health for some time, and there is no direct evidence that the theft or trial had any connection with his death.

New Zealand Latest Country To Join In Decimal Currency Trend

New Zealand will probably change to decimal currency from pounds, shillings and pence, no matter which political party wins in the November 26 election, according to a dispatch from Auckland.

The Labor party vows it will arrange a switch to decimal currency by April, 1964.

The National party also supports the change—which was recommended by a special study committee to parliament last year.

The transition to a decimal system began in India in 1959 and is due to start in South Africa February 2, 1961.

Only Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Eire, Ghana and Pakistan still use non-decimal systems. Of these, Australia seems highly likely to switch over.

A committee has recommended the use of a decimal system by February, 1963, and the Government is believed to favor the idea.

The New Zealand political parties are not committed to the system they will adopt. The issue has been studied by parliament for nearly 30 years.

Attorney General H. G. R. Mason introduced a private bill each year for several years seeking the adoption of decimal coinage.

Eventually an expert committee was appointed to study the plan and it reported last year in favor of the change. It recommended a system based on an upper unit of ten shillings, or half the size of the present pound.

The upper unit would be divided into 100 lower units, each worth 1.2 of the present pence.

The system has the advantages of a simple relationship to the existing pound, and it would permit all the present silver coinage to remain in use for a start. The only new coin needed would be a bronze coin to replace the existing penny.

Already suggestions are being made for names for the new currency.

India has chosen a rupee divided into 100 paise. South Africa will have the rand, consisting of 100 cents.

Suggestions made in Australia, in the event of a switch to decimal currency, are an austral, kangaroo, or doubloon.

Among the proposals put forward in New Zealand for the upper unit are dollar, kiwi and tui (two New Zealand birds), fern (a national symbol worn by sports teams) and zeal, advanced as short and distinctive.

the worth of these coins would be 50 times the sum paid in Israel, the leading Israeli numismatist declared.

It is clear, he continued, that dealers in Israel or abroad may allege that Tyrian shekels sold by them originated in the "Mount Carmel" hoard simply to fetch higher prices for their pieces.

"American collectors should be warned not to fall victim to such ways of speculation," President Kadman warned.

Collector Goldman obtained the coins by proxy when a friend went to Haifa for a visit. The friend bought them from an Israeli dealer for $15.

The Mount Carmel treasure consisted of 4,560 Tyrian and Roman coins unearthed by Ushiya by a Druze farmer last winter.

It is believed the coins may have been a tax collection sent from Jewish communities in Phoenicia to the Jerusalem Temple treasury during the spring of the year 67 A.D.

Bank Exhibit Feature Of Banquet

Norman Williams, Earl Cook and J. E. Harris are intent upon examining prize weapons, one of the outstanding exhibits at the West Tennessee Collectors' Club exhibit and banquet recently at the New Southern Hotel, Jackson, Tennessee. One hundred and fifty people registered for the exhibits and auctions and 75 attended the banquet, according to convention officials.

Exhibits, headed by two $50 gold slugs valued at $2500 and owned by the Jackson First National Bank, featured the banquet session of the West Tennessee Collectors' Club, held recently at the New Southern Hotel, Jackson, Tennessee.

Other displays included a collection of United States currency owned by Ben Ross; complete set of Commemorative half dollars, George Bennett; set of Indian head cents, Don Weaver; set of Liberty head nickels, Don Weaver; collection of Crowns of the World, Ben Ross; collection of railroad notes, H. L. Pope; dueling pistols valued at $1,000, George Bennett; and mint sheets of famous American stamps, Mrs. Reid Weaver, and a collection of precancelled, W. F. Rollins.

Some 120 lots were auctioned off, and five dealers occupied bourse tables. Special prizes of a 1959 proof set went to Mrs. J. T. Bailey and Norman Williams, and a 1960 set of first day covers to H. L. Pope.

Officials of the banquet and show included J. T. Bailey, reservations; Leon Johnsey, auction, and H. L. Pope, exhibits.

Gold Denominations

U. S. Mints over the years have had gold coins in denominations of $1, $2.50, $3, $5, $10 and $20. A $4 gold piece was experimental; a $50 commemorative was not regular issue.

tions requiring a financial responsibility report.

During this period an occasional complaint came to Coin World at Miczek's slowness in filling orders.

Miczek's worried mother furnished Corry police a description of her son in broken English. She described him as 17, six feet, two inches tall, 175 pounds, with brown hair, blue eyes, brown horn rimmed glasses. He was wearing dark trousers and a three-quarter length tweed coat, and carrying a small brown leather suitcase when he left home.

Corry police officials said her son's reported series of bad checks would come as a great shock to Mrs. Borsas.

The youth is a senior in the Cory Area High School.

Anyone having a lead on the whereabouts of Miczek is asked to telephone Corry police at Corry 3-6911 and write the Philadelphia postal inspector to advise of unfilled orders.

Mead Named To Head Club

Walter D. Mead was elected president of the Titusville, Florida, Coin Club at its October meeting. Term of office is six months.

Other officers chosen included Duff Hornbeck, vice president, and LeRoy Hayes, secretary-treasurer.

The Titusville club met at the Indian River City Library.

New Englanders Join For Numismatic Panel Program

More than 135 members and guests attended the joint meeting of the Pawtucket, Rhode Island, Numismatic Society and the Canadian Collectors' Club of Boston, held recently at Pawtucket.

Special guests were Frederick Samuels, Montreal, Quebec, and Ray Hobin, Stettville, Ontario, well known Canadian numismatists, who, with Maurice M. Gould, president of the Boston group, formed a panel for a question and answer period, termed "very successful" by host officials.

Present from the Canadian Collectors' club were 20 members and officers Gould, Earl V. Tuttle, vice president; Andrew S. Scott, secretary, and Grade D. Lincoln, Earl Bellis, Leonard H. Finn, and Frank Washburn, directors.

During the session, the Boston group voted in Samuels and Hobin, who flew from Canada for the meeting, as honorary members.

December 3 Date Set

The Bay Cities Coin Club of Santa Monica, California, plans to combine its November and December meetings in a banquet session December 3.

Feature of the October meeting was the talk by Bill Fanning on his patterns and trial pieces collection, accompanied by a display.

The Canadian club donated a 1958 Canada mint set which was given away as a special award. On display was the rare 1921 Canada mint set. Canadian material made up an auction list, with some rare pieces bringing high bids, according to officials.

Alfred M. Williams, president of the Pawtucket club, was chairman for the program, assisted by Mrs. Ruth Catalan and A. J. Boudreau. Invitations to attend had been extended to the Rhode Island Coin Club of Providence, the Worcester, Massachusetts, Coin Club, and the parent Boston club of the Candian Collectors.

Thomas Wins At Enid Show

Approximately 3,000 visitors attended the Enid Coin Show sponsored November 5-6 at the Youngblood Hotel, Enid, Oklahoma, by the Enid Coin Club, according to a report from the secretary, Eber W. Higgins.

Earl Thomas, Enid, won first place award for his exhibit of type coins and sets of early American coins. Gaynell Gettel, Enid, received an award for his display of making early money.

Bourse tables were occupied by 21 dealers. Show officials were Marvin Withers, Pratt, Kansas, and Mr. Higgins.

Making New Friends

A collector in Wheeling, West Virginia corresponds with a doctor in Ireland. A nine year old Los Angeles boy writes to a similarly aged boy in France. A Belgium and Iowa team keep up a weekly exchange of letters. Americans are finding a fascinating new experience—writing to coin collectors in foreign lands.

Dick Johnson

For the price of an eight cent stamp Americans are learning that collectors in other countries have similar interests, the same troubles, and occasionally the same good fortune finding rare coins for their collections. Few things are as universal as numismatics.

A lot of knowledge rubs off in the exchange of these letters. We are learning more about our neighbors as we discuss our favorite subject, and many times a coin or two has changed hands in the process! New friendships are made, better understanding is fostered, as the People-to-People program join two human beings in a cultural pursuit.

Already in full swing, the program was created by President Eisenhower in 1956. Heads of state could meet in year long summit meetings and still not achieve the effect of millions of people and organizations entering into their own communication.

The original purpose was to seek new roads to international understanding, but the plan did not take into consideration the enthusiasm of some American coin collectors. What started out as "a nice thing to do" has become a second hobby for some collectors.

The allure lies not only in the new things to learn and obtain, but brings your own coins alive as you receive mail from the very country! What could bring it closer, save going there in person?

The Numismatic division is headed by Vernon Brown, of the Chase Manhattan Bank Museum of Monies. He has a very able assistant in Vice Chairman George S. Venderwende. We had a long talk with George in Washington recently and learned why this gentleman was chosen for the job.

George worked for the U.S. government as a printing administrator in the Philippines for a long period of time. He also served in the Bureau of the Budget before retiring recently. Now he is devoting his full time to the People-to-People project. An able executive, he has the numismatic knowledge and contacts in many foreign lands. Under his and Vernon Brown's guidance the coin program will certainly succeed.

Sponsored by the government, and endorsed by the A.N.A. and other numismatic organizations, this program needs only to be brought to collectors' attention. The enjoyment that can be obtained for such little cost involved is outstanding.

Coin World carries a form on page 23 of this issue for collectors to fill out. Talk it up at your club meeting, take part yourself. Fill out the form and send it to George, at Dunn Loring, Virginia.

Let's all make some new friends!

Books Postponed

With the purchase of the Numismatic Advertiser and the addition of another staff member, we have been primarily concerned recently with an expanding Coin World.

We are postponing therefore, the special book edition we had planned for the December 15th issue. This will appear in January instead and from several recent telephone calls asking for space commitments for this particular edition, it will prove to be a larger, interest packed, special issue.

We do, however, solicit your advertising for December and expect that collectors will have lots of money to spend on coins in the coming weeks.

Letters To The Editor

Just received your newspaper and upon reading page 34 and the ad on page 37 concerning the Six Kids Coin Co.

I really wonder what this world is coming to.

I know of one case in New Jersey where there are two children, a boy and girl, and the other day I met them at a coin meeting and it was a pity to see them.

Beautiful children but to look at something they had to bring it real close to their eyes to see. They also go through coins, maybe not on the same basis as the Six Kids, but I am sure they have the same deformities.

This gentleman that I talk of brought an enormous amount of rolls of every date possible and at the end of the meeting after not selling as much as he wished, he sold rolls of 1938-S, 1936-S etc for 60 cents a roll.

Sixty cents a roll which took these children such a long time to find as we all know how hard it is to find coins now a days that have any but face value.

Why must parents resort to such tactics to make money? What is to be gained to exploit these poor children? What is to be gained by them being a machine for speculators, for that is exactly what they are.

How will Mr. (Old Man Dead ROACHES) as he terms himself in the article gain knowing that three of the oldest six children on page 37 are wearing glasses.

How will he explain to them in latter years why their eyes are ruined. No Mr. Old Man you have no right to exploit these children, and I'll tell you what I don't know why you aren't in jail at present.

Not only are you a cruel mean man, but you are proud of that fact. No, I can't do anything about it as an individual. No, I can't say that you need the money and are doing this because you are starving, as there are many welfare organizations, no, I don't say be proud, but for the sake of these beautiful children, please think, and with your brilliant mind you will be able to conceive some other idea to make money if that is your goal in life.

Money will never buy back the eyes your children are slowly losing, money will not make you happy knowing how you got it, and believe me, kind sir, there is no collector that needs 100 rolls of 1940-S cents as you advertised on page 37. Believe me, I seriously wish you would have placed the money you spent for that ad in the bank, it would serve a purpose, and any person that will send you a bid on your ad is not a collector, not even a dealer, but a speculator, and speculators are grand people, but they will see through you, and your Child Labor as you put it.

May someone bless you in your endeavor Mr. "Old Man Dead" for I as one think you are something that this grand paper would not print.

We want to thank you for the ample write-up we received on our new products in the Special Supplies and Accessories Issue of October 27th.

Since suggestions were solicited we would make two suggestions which we feel would lead to more order in finding an advertisers and his products.

1. For special issues such as this recent Supplies and Accessories issue, an alphabetical list of the products offered and on which page they can be found. We read the paper three times before we found both ads and write-ups.

2. For each issue, an alphabetical list of advertisers both to help the advertiser find his ad and to assist the readers who buy products by dealer name as well as by items.

A good friend has had Coin World sent to me for about two months. I think it is time that I subscribed to the weekly newspaper of the entire numismatic field.....

It is a wonderful weekly newspaper for the coin collector. In fact, the only weekly coin magazine that I know of. And I have been watching it continue to get larger and better. I have not been having much time to read and it being so large each issue I have four copies I have not read.

But am looking forward to a lot of good and interesting reading this winter.....I will try to get you other subscribers. I feel Coin World is here to stay.

I now take six different coin papers and magazines. Yours is the best.....

C. H. Vines
Johnson City, Tennessee

I have a suggestion which might merit some thinking. Why don't you have an index to your advertisers in each issue of Coin World. Several other coin papers and magazines have an index. Not only does it help find a certain collector, but it helps advertisers find their own ads.....

Jon M. Whiteman
Port Lavaca, Texas

How about junior and the grandchildren? I say start them collecting uncirculated rolls, mint and proof sets at birth. I'll guarantee they will have a "college fund" at a minimum of effort and cost. I give mine these items each birthday and at Christmas.

Just sent them $480 for three rolls of Unc. 1950-D that I gave them in 1950 at a cost to me of $6. This sum goes into the college education fund. They have more rolls of this date and other key rolls such as 1931-S Unc. cents bought early. See what I mean. How about your "kids"? Will you have to mortgage the "old homestead" for them to get their "learning"?

You collect, or should, with two thoughts in mind: PLEASURE AND PROFIT. Some say "forget PROFIT". I agree if you are "shamefully rich". In that event one can collect for PLEASURE and often with the added stimulus, "The pride of possession," that ability to have something that others in the lower bracket cannot hope to obtain, unless procured early, at a nominal price.

Examples are the 1822 five dollar gold piece, the 1804 silver dollar and the 1913 Liberty head nickel. It's my understanding that our good friend, J. V. McDermott, gave only $900. for his 1913-LH nickel. This is the most traveled coin in the world.

It has been in my home perhaps 75 years. Each year it attends the A.N.A. convention and in the meantime visits coin clubs all over America. "Mc and Betts" are a generous couple and love to share their hobby.

There are three ways to look at "PLEASURE and PROFIT": PLEASURE and profit, PLEASURE and PROFIT, Pleasure and PROFIT.

I'll take the middle course, equal interests. No one in his right mind goes into business for PLEASURE only. The same goes for PROFIT only, unless one wishes a good case of ulcers.

Granted coin collecting is a hobby. If it's a financial loss to you, you will soon lose interest. This has been my observation.

This you cannot deny; Unc. Rolls, proofs and mint sets are largely responsible for the tremendous recent growth in new collectors, local coin clubs and A.N.A. They have also created

I want to recommend to the readers of Coin World that they obtain the current issue of Numisma, published by the New Netherlands Coin Co., 1 W. 47 Street, New York City, 36. They will find an excellent commentary on the roll and bag craze which has hurt many of our new collectors.

The editor of Numisma proposes a solution to numismatic hucksterism—that collectors "spread the gospel of knowledge and common sense." This is good advice and should be taken seriously.

A collector friend of mine gave me a copy of Coin World. To me your newspaper is one of the finest I've read in the numismatic field.

I have long felt the need of a weekly coin magazine such as yours, and I'm really happy I've found such an interesting one. I am enclosing a money order for a year's subscription.

The way I look at coin collecting—you start at the bottom of the ladder—at a young age—THE YOUNGER THE BETTER. he "kindergarten steps" are picking out circulated cents, nickels, etc. at a nominal cost, within reach of your pocket-book. Through trades and often with the help of elders you branch into uncirculated rolls, singles, mint and proof sets.

In a few years these coins, through age-like wine, increase in value. Thus you lay a financial foundation that permits purchase of various numismatic coins and rarities.

You are on the way up the ladder. Join A.N.A., local coin clubs, study numismatics.

You are "inoculated." The

"bug" is in your system. There is no turning back.

Perchance you marry. You sell your wife "on the idea." The Mrs. also joins the local coin club, meeting many nice people. She, too, gets the "numismatic fever."

At vacation time you discover that those uncirculated rolls, mint and proof sets will pay all expenses for the Mrs. and self to A.N.A. conventions. You both meet new found friends with mutual interests. You trade, buy, sell and have a "grand time" and "raring" to go to next year's A.N.A. convention at some other distant city. You meet new friends, greet the old ones and generally enjoy life.

COIN PROFITS pay the way. Give Uncle Sam his cut and leave some money for "junior's piggy bank". "Yep." Get a hobby that pays. Does yours?

As a subscriber to your publication, I have noticed with interest the comments on roll collecting. When you think about it, with the exception of the amount of money involved, dealing in rolls is not a great deal unlike dealing in stocks. Both are speculative and investments made in them are for the purpose of gain.

I feel the roll quotations given in your publication by Jim Kelley are informative and worthy of commendation. You might have Mr. Kelley go a little farther and stress the pitfalls in speculation.

To the little coin collectors throughout the nation, I have this suggestion to make—don't get in a position to let the big boys put on the squeeze! Buy only what you can pay for and put it away.

If the price goes down, keep it. If the price goes up and you wish to sell—sell! I have had the feeling many of the big boys pick up speculative news not usually available to the small collectors and "make hay" of it.

A good example of this was the 1960 small date cent. A lot of ado was made about the scarcity of the cent due to the manner in which it was minted; consequently quite a few of us suckers took the bait.

Now that the big boys have gotten the last drop of blood, they are after the pound of flesh, too. Should any reader of this article possess a roll of the cents for which he paid a high price, I advise sitting on it. There is not a great deal to lose by doing so and should the cents be as scarce as first purported, it might be investment plus a profit.

The point I am trying to put over to the small collectors is this: Don't become over-zealous. Coins are always available at a price. Never forget "if an item is so good, then why is the seller trying desperately to get rid of it?"

Carter Wins Ozark Honors

Howard Carter, Hamilton, Missouri, won the award for best in show for his display of National Bank Notes, at the fall convention of the Greater Ozarks Numismatic Association, held in Springfield, Missouri, November 5-6.

Other award winners included S. W. Freeman, Newport, Arkansas, for his complete two-cent set, and E. R. Brown, Gainesville, Missouri, for foreign crowns.

Bourse tables were occupied by 35 dealers. No auction was held, but at a private sale, a very fine 1877 Indian cent changed hands at $150. More than 800 persons were in attendance.

Convention officials included Tom E. Bruer, Claude Munson, Bill Knight, Lee Gilbert, and Frank Foster. At an election, the following new officers were chosen:

President, J. J. Mingo; vice president, James Vaughan, and secretary, Emery Hensley.

Tyrone Club Election Held

Officers were elected and eight new members admitted at the second meeting of the newly organized Tyrone, Pennsylvania, Coin Club, held recently at the Tyrone Y.M.C.A.

J. Thomas Marsden was chosen president. Other officers include John D. Meyer, vice president; Bruce Carpenter, secretary, and John B. Jones, treasurer.

Newly-admitted members were William Ambrose, James Bousum, Joseph Podzurski, Emil Peters, Samuel Cannistraci, Robert Calderwood, Harry Rhoades and Glenn Dean.

The group also accepted the by-laws as presented by a committee, held a brief business session, and concluded with a coin auction.

World Coins Exhibit Takes Top Honors At Springfield

Walter McMann, Springfield, Illinois, took the best-in-show trophy for his Coins of the World exhibit, at the recent Fall Festival sponsored by Central Illinois Numismatic Association in Springfield.

The Festival, attended by close to 1,500 visitors, occupied the entire fourth floor of the Abraham Lincoln hotel, and included auction and bourse as well as exhibits.

For his display, McMann received, besides the best-in-show trophy, a blue ribbon for first place and $50. Four other places were awarded, each with ribbon and cash, on the basis of general excellence rather than specific categories. Competition was limited to members with each exhibitor receiving an exhibitor's green ribbon. Other winners included:

Second, Ernest Schultz, Springfield, red ribbon and $25 for civil war tokens; and Lincoln items; third, Dave Bowers, Springfield, white ribbon and $10 for U.S. transportation tokens; fourth, Walt Land, Springfield, orange ribbon and $10 for a coin grading exhibit, and fifth, Joseph Mileham, Springfield, pink ribbon and $5 for gold coins of the world.

Among the auctioned items were an 1877 Indian cent EF, 1912-D Liberty nickel unc., two 1855 pattern flying eagle cents in copper, 1886 nickel in proof, 1864 pattern dime, 1870 pattern quarter, 1858 pattern Indian cent, and a complete set of gold quarter eagles. Bourse tables were occupied by 49 dealers.

Coin Thefts Total $1,500

A couple suspected of taking their 18-month-old son on shoplifting forays in Waikiki and downtown Honolulu, were questioned by Honolulu police in connection with the theft of $300 in rare coins from the Honolulu Stamp and Coin Company.

The man, 30, is an unemployed seaman who was once imprisoned on a forgery conviction. The woman, 32, gave her occupation as a housewife.

Theft of a coin collection valued at $400 was reported to Mount Vernon, Illinois, police recently by Mrs. Elmer Hawkins, of that city.

A collection of gold coins valued at $100 was taken from Norman J. Mezydlo, Inglewood, California, while he was on vacation, Inglewood officials report.

Eugene Unger, 26, who was returned from Columbus, Ohio, to Paterson, New Jersey, to face a charge of stealing a $700 collection of rare coins, pleaded guilty before County Judge Morris Pashman in Paterson.

Police in Columbus were waiting for Unger recently when his bus arrived; they found most of the collection stolen from Ralph Walker on September 4. Ninety-seven silver dollars were missing.

Judge Pashman set December 9 as the date to sentence Unger. Bail was set at $500.

Discretion Watchword For Sponsorships

By Jim Kelly

333 W. First St., Dayton 2, Ohio

Without exception, coin collectors are the finest class of individuals anywhere to be found. Their honesty and integrity is certainly indicated by the fact that more than half of the coins purchased—at least dollar-wise—is shipped on approval and/or open account. Losses sustained from credit to recognized collectors is nearly non-existent.

Jim Kelly

Recently, however, due to the tremendous popularity of numismatics and the vast amount of publicity that rare coins have received, a few unsavory characters have managed to infiltrate various organizations, etcetera.

We are all proud of our local and national organizations and naturally have a desire to see them grow. This is only normal but we must take measures to protect ourselves and other collectors from serious harm that can result from our negligence in allowing such persons to become recognized members of our finest organizations.

One thing we can avoid is the tendency to sign as a sponsor or voucher for anyone with whom we are not personally acquainted and whom we feel would not be a good member. Numismatics is a wonderful hobby made up of the finest people on earth. Let's all do our part to keep it that way.

LouisianaTwo Thousand Attend Big Exhibit Of Oak Park Club

With more than 2,000 persons in attendance, and 1893 actual registrations, the annual Exhibit sponsored by the Oak Park, Illinois, Coin Club recently at the Oak Park Adams Hotel, turned out to be one of the largest events held by one club, in the country.

The auction room was jammed with some 300 bidders, and 15 bourse dealers were swamped, according to a report from show officials. Exhibit awards were as follows:

Currency, Glenn Smedley, Oak Park; United States coins, Robert Brannigan, Beloit, Michigan; United States commemorative gold, James Friberg, East Chicago; foreign coins, Dennis Ciechona, Chicago; miscellaneous, Harry Flower, Oak Park; odd and curious, James T. Mangan, Evergreen Park, and junior exhibit, Eric Grebinger, Chicago.

Highlights of the auction included $312.50 paid for a 1793 half cent, and $537.50 paid for an 1856 Flying Eagle cent.

Officials for the show included Walter Nemecek and Glenn B. Smedley, co-chairmen.

The Romance of MONEY

By Ted R. Hammer

In numismatics there are many different breeds, however alike they may appear to others.

Michael M. Dolnick, Chicago, once provided a breakdown of these "breeds" among coin collectors: "The accumulator, investor, specialist and the exhibitor. Each category has subdivisions.

The accumulator has no goal but collects everything, being interested primarily in quantity, said Dolnick. He's constantly hunting odd corners for additional space for his collection. In subdivision A, we find boxes of badges, tokens, cents or what have you. In subdivision B is the collector who boasts of the facts he's completed 12 sets of Indian cents. He finished one set and was so struck by the appearance of this coin that he started a second—and so on.

The investor is interested in the profit angle of the hobby and is constantly on the alert to make a purchase which he can "turn over" soon afterward at a small—or great—profit. In one subdivision, however, is the collector who likes to keep track of paper profits but will not sell a coin. In fact, he'd as soon sell his wife. And some of his friends believe he'd swap her if the right deal came along. He may well have descended from a long line of horse traders. He memorizes prices and can quote all prices listed in the current magazines.

The specialist may concentrate on ancient coins, commemoratives, dollar size coins of the world or coins of a particular country. He's apt to bore fellow collectors with long stories about the wives and husbands and offspring and deeds of persons whose likenesses appear on his coins of ancient Greece or Rome.

The exhibitor appreciates praise in great or small doses. He likes to impart information to all and sundry. He may have display cases packed and ready to go if he gets a call from a service club in need of a program on short notice. Some of these exhibitors are willing to part with duplicates, but usually have exaggerated ideas on the value of the items up for sale.

In every collector there's a little of each of the foregoing.

Vikings Challenged By 50-Pound Coinage!

By Axel Miltander
Bevaringsgatan 11,
Gothenburg N, Sweden

Do you know that the biggest coin in the world was minted in Sweden in 1644? It measures 70 x 30 centimetres, is square-shaped and has a weight of 50 pounds.

Hard to keep in the pocket? Yes, I think it was (even for these Vikings!

Here is the story behind these confusing coins:

Even if it is about 150 years since we had war in Sweden, you must remember that Swedes in earlier days were fighting not only in Scandinavia but also in Russia and Germany. And it cost a lot of money.

At that time we had no silver- or gold-mines here (now we have the biggest gold-mine in Europe, the Bolliden in northern part of our country. But we had copper and copper- was an expensive metal as it could be used for just cannons.

The increasing prices of copper in Europe was the reason why we got copper-standard here. Coining of these big-sized copper-pieces goes back to 1644 and is peculiar to Sweden. We got our big 10-daler-piece in 1644, as mentioned, and coining of square-shaped pieces was continued to 1776. The material used was mainly copper from the Falun mine, which have been worked for 800 years and still is being so. The denominations of the coins were one-half, one, two, three, four, five, eight and 10 dalers. The value of copper was also at that time about one per cent of the value of silver.

The weight of the one-daler was about one and a half pound. Recently a silversmith here, Lars-Rune Olhans, made nice hand-made miniatures of that piece—a 1-daler from 1715 when Karl XII was king in Sweden.

Only four items are known of the world's biggest coin. It has a value of about $20,000.

If you go to Scandinavian coin-dealers you will discover that we do not have the same system of quality-marking as you have in USA. You have XF, AU, BU and so on. A zero (0) marks the best quality here. The next is 01, so 1 and 2. Between them we have different grades, such as 01-0, 1+, 17, etc. This system was built up for many years ago by the famous Swedish numismatist, Apgelgren.

I think it would be best if we could find an international system, not true? The U.S. system seems me to be good, but you must remember that the letters are abbreviations from the English language. And not all people understand it.

Recently two boys, about 10 years, played in a forest not far away from Stockholm. Suddenly they discovered a pheasant not so far away from them. They followed the bird and saw that it went to a hole under a stone. Later on they looked in the hole—and discovered some glittering pieces of metal. On of the boys took one of the pieces, washed it clean:

Election, Banquet Planned By Society; Cruise Recent Event

Future plans for the San Diego Numismatic Society include election of officers at the December meeting, and a banquet in January, according to reports from the society.

Officers will be elected from a slate which was scheduled to be placed in nomination at the November meeting by a nominating committee or from the floor. The committee comprised Francis S. Jones, Ted Gottschall and Bob Wells. Russell Rulau has been appointed general chairman of the January banquet.

San Diego Numismatic Society members and their guests had a rare privilege recently when they went on a family cruise aboard the U.S.S. Gurke, compliments of Commander Stuart T. Edgerton Jr., a member of the San Diego Club. Forty-six guests thrilled at the Pacific "cruise" which gave them a panoramic view of San Diego, the waterfront, North and Shelter Islands and Point Loma.

Encouragement of junior collectors is a policy of the San Diego club. Junior meetings are held at the same place as the regular meetings, but slightly earlier, so that senior members can be of assistance.

Other recent actions by the society included the taking of a "family cruise" on the U. S. S. Gurke, at the invitation of its commanding officer, Commander Stuart T. Edgerton, Jr., a member of the club. Spending most of the day aboard the San Diego-based destroyer were 46 members and their guests.

Comdr. Edgerton has been appointed the representative of the San Diego society in working with the U. S. Navy department to develop a medal to commemorate the 50th anniversary of naval aviation, which will be observed in San Diego next May 8.

The San Diego Numismatic Society has more than 200 senior members, and close to 30 juniors. It meets the first Monday of the month at Vasa Hall, 3094 El Cajon boulevard, San Diego.

Baluba Star Of Convention

Miss Kim McDonald examines a baluba, a heavy copper cross exchangeable for a wife in the Belgian Congo, one of the unusual items included in the million dollar display at the California State Numismatic Association convention. The conclave was held at the U.S. Grant Hotel in San Diego.

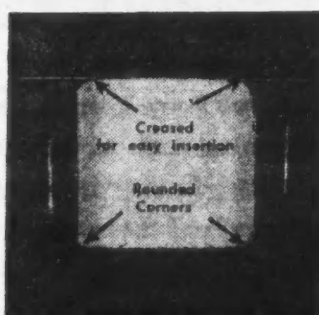

Wisconsin Convention Sets Record

New attendance records were set at the annual fall convention of the Beloit and Janesville, Wisconsin, coin clubs, held recently at the convention hall of the Parker Pen Company of Janesville. About 1,000 persons visited the show.

Ralph Parker, Racine, Wisconsin, won first place in exhibits with a display of foreign gold, in which mirrors were used to show the reverse side of the coins. O. D. Corbridge, Rockford, Illinois, won second, with a display of U.S. silver and copper coins.

Bourse tables were occupied by 32 dealers, at a fee of $15. An auction was held, with average prices obtained for relatively scarce and "key" coins, but no great rarities were listed, according to officials.

Convention officials included Martin Koder, Beloit, general chairman; Louis Flint, Janesville, building arrangements; Dr. Erland R. Otterholt, Janesville, exhibits, and Robert Branigan, Beloit, bourse.

Rittenhouse Would Fit In Modern Missile Plan

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the second of a biographical series dealing with the life of the first director of the United States mint, David Rittenhouse. Last week young Rittenhouse virtually wrecked his health, working as a clock and instrument worker by day, and studying at night—accomplishing mathematical feats that rivaled the greatest minds in Europe.)

It is very likely that if David Rittenhouse lived today he would be in charge of the United States missile program instead of the United States mint, although it was his wonderful knowledge of delicate machinery and of coinage that made him invaluable as the first mint director.

Second in a Series

His observations as an astronomer have been found to be nearly accurate and his computations nearly two centuries ago place him among the greatest of astronomers. This coupled with his scientific, mathematical mind would certainly qualify him for modern-day astronautical administration.

The name of Thomas Barton, a teacher and graduate of Dublin's Trinity college, was important in the progress of David Rittenhouse. He met Barton in 1751, when he was 19 years of age, and the two men remained friends the rest of their lives—in fact Barton married David Rittenhouse's sister and made it a family bond!

Barton influenced Rittenhouse to study Latin and Greek; later he mastered German and French. A special gift from Barton to Rittenhouse was a series of scientific works the teacher had brought from Europe—this added fuel to the fire of the marvelous Rittenhouse mind.

Although his dream-wagon was literally "hitched to a star," Rittenhouse worked to perfect his skill as an instrument maker. He discovered that the period of an oscillation of the pendulum varies with the temperature. To remedy these variations, and to secure a more accurate time-keeper, he devised a compensating medium, a glass tube partly filled with alcohol and mercury, somewhat like a thermometer. This proved of invaluable assistance to the men of science.

David Rittenhouse

When a wonder of astronomy was about to take place—the transit of Venus over the sun's disc June 3, 1769 (it did not occur again until 1874)—young Rittenhouse hurried to make his own telescope and other instruments for the important occasion. He knew distances between the heavenly bodies could be more accurately calculated with precision instruments.

It is said that when he set up his instruments and viewed the contact of the planet entering upon the fiery sun, David Rittenhouse fainted with joy and delight at the rare privilege. He rallied, however, to measure the distance between the centers of the two bodies at stated intervals during the phenomenon.

The same year, in November, he observed the transit of Mercury, the fourth time this was ever witnessed in history.

The royal astronomer of England recognized Rittenhouse's findings; another equally high authority said:

"The first approximately accurate results in the measurements of the spheres were given to the world, not by the schooled (Continued on Page 19)

Phenomenal Jump In Coin Prices Studied

If butter were as much in demand as coins, a pound that cost 25 cents in 1936 would cost $6.97 today in 1960, and by the same token, an $800 automobile would jump to $17,040.

Comparisons of prices of coins and the cost of living over the past 25 years were made recently by William H. McDermott of Chicago and sent to Coin World. Sets of uncirculated and proofs were used as the standard.

McDermott says that with the same percentage of increase, a $30 suit of clothes should now cost $693, but on the other hand, if salaries increased in the same proportion, we should now be making $577 weekly for each $25 paid us in 1936.

Taking some commonly desired coins as well as a few not so much in demand, McDermott bases his figures on costs listed in the April, 1936, Numismatist, and comes up with an increase of 2300 per cent.

Sets of certain coins bought in 1936 for $350 would now cost $8,096, or an increase of 23.1 times the original investment.

The picture is a little different when commemoratives are considered. The increase there is only a mere 500 per cent. An investment in this type of coin of $75 in 1936 would be worth $381 in 1960 or a little more than five times the initial cost. Listed below are McDermott's figures:

Rittenhouse . . .

and salaried astronomers who watched from the magnificent royal observatories of Europe, but by unpaid amateurs and devotees to science in the youthful province of Pennsylvania."

All this led to Rittenhouse as the inventor of a practical planetarium—first called the "orrery," an instrument so constructed and designed as to exhibit the movements of the planets around the sun and of satellites around their primaries.

He worked three years on the Rittenhouse "orrery," and Princeton literally swooped it out from under the nose of the College of Philadelphia — Princeton paid Rittenhouse 300 pounds for it.

The Philadelphia college officials, who had partially bargained for the orrery, were offended, but Rittenhouse immediately set to work to build them one.

"This," he said, "I am not sorry for; since the making of a second will be but an amusement, compared with the first; and who knows, but that the rest of the colonies may catch the contagion."

To pay for this orrery, Dr. Smith, provost of the College of Philadelphia, delivered a course of lectures on astronomy. The second orrery was much larger than the first, but on the same model. It cost 400 pounds.

In 1779 Rittenhouse was the first professor of astronomy at the University of Pennsylvania — he served until 1782.

NEXT WEEK: Rittenhouse, the Money Man

Wyoming Club To Exhibit Quarters

Quarters will be featured at the November 27 meeting of the Big Horn Basin Coin Club, scheduled for the DeLuxe Steak house in Worland, Wyoming. Members are to bring their quarter collections for display and judging.

The club hopes to have a coin exhibit sometime in January, with plans presently being discussed.

Platinum Melted Fast
By Foreign Receivers

Russia issued between 1828-1845 at the St. Petersburg mint platinum coins for about 30,000 pounds of platinum in three denominations, weighing each 41-2, 20-6, 10-3 grams (12.6 and three roubles.) These coins were used only for payments to foreign countries which accepted them gladly as platinum sold higher in England than in Russia. The difference was 120 per cent and therefore the foreign receivers melted the coins quickly which accounts for their present scarcity.

Platinum was discovered in 1725 by Wood in Ecuador who separated it from silver which contained 60 per cent platinum. He sent it to the Royal Academy in London.

But white gold of the Inca period in Peru (about 1400 A.D.) contained platinum, for at least 50 per cent, found in the rivers. Platinum in its early years had a value of about 0.2 gram gold or three grams silver and this explains why so many coins were counterfeited in platinum, gilded and then passed for gold.

Platinum is just a bit heavier than gold and it was easy for the counterfeiters to make the onzas, the half onzas etc. in the correct weights.

Colombia's governor ordered to throw all platinum coins in the river saying that platinum was the metal of the "devil" because it was "unripe" gold and would "ripen" only after many years. The Egyptians said the same thing about electrum during the old pharaonic period.

Platina means "little silver" and in Portuguese the word for platinum is "ouro poudre" or "rotten gold".

Dr. Goodwin, president of OMSA, visited New York and we are happy that his health is improving. He is a brave and good man and we wish him luck. He warns us against counterfeiters and tells collectors not to loan their rare pieces so that nobody can cast or strike copies of these rarities.

Dr. Goodwin tells us that a large collection of decorations belonging to a foreign friend of his will be soon purchased by him, only to obtain two orders which he could not obtain before. A real collector who buys a many thousand dollar collection to get two items worth only a few hundred.

The International Numismatic Congress will be held in Rome from the September 11-16, 1961, under the patronage of the president of the republic of Italy. Remember the IAPN (International Dealers Organization) holds its convention in Rome following the Congress and the Medalists (FIDEM) during the same period in Rome, also.

Coin World's editor, D. Wayne Johnson, has plans to charter a plane bringing us all over to Rome for a fraction of the regular costs. I favor the idea greatly.

All communications to the numismatic congress should be addressed to the Italian Institute of Numismatics, Palazzo Barberini, Rome. The theme of the congress is "Mediterranean Numismatics," social and economic role of the coins, the circulation in the Mediterranean area and its influence in the world.

To our great astonishment we saw in the Austrian Numismatic Review a listing of platinum coins very similar to the one in Coin World. Each one did not know of the other and Josef Dobretberger will be astonished when he receives the much more complete Coin World listing.

I have told you a lot about platinum in our many columns which is a topic you cannot read about in any coin book. It would be very interesting for me to receive any additional information about platinum which I did not incorporate in my articles.

For instance I received a letter from a collector whose collection includes a half sovereign 1869 struck in PALLADIUM HYDROGENIUM and several platinum and palladium medals of the New York World's Fair, 1939.

This collector also has some Australian sovereigns dated 1887 but nothing of a later date in the English series.

Why didn't platinum become a money-metal like gold and silver? The reason: Platinum was always subject to very heavy changes in its value due to large or small needs in industry.

To collect platinum coins is a very satisfactory hobby because first of all there are only a few hundred pieces in total if all varieties are collected and it takes a long time to get all the platinum coins somewhat complete. The price is relatively cheap because the metal value of the collection is very high with at present platinum selling three to four times the price of gold.

PERSONAL NEWS:

I feel very sorry for Melvin Came who is the latest victim of the robbers who seek out numismatists all over the country. The P.N.G. should take action and see what they can do to protect their members from future robberies. I hope that Mel is properly insured and that he has not suffered too great a loss.

Fred Baldwin from London arrived on the "Queen Mary" this week looking as young as ever and your correspondent remembers this dean of numismatics long ago in 1935 when Mr. Baldwin invited him to one of the most beautiful nightclubs in existence before the war.

Coming from quiet Amsterdam, the Netherlands, the glamour of London night life was something new and I felt grateful to experienced and fatherly Fred Baldwin to take me out to something I had never seen.

Well this is 25 years ago and Fred Baldwin does not look much older. He is one of the few of the old school still around and I look at him with great respect considering him one of the best numismatists in the world. He can be grateful that Nephew Albert is following his footsteps and he is already today one of the best numismatists, too.

We hear that Henry Christensen and Clyde Hubbard safely arrived back in the U.S.A. enthusiastic about Spain and particularly about Barcelona. The Calico brothers laid out the red carpet and took them everywhere, up the Tibidab mountain overlooking the city; down to the Caracoles (cellars) to taste the "pulpitos" (I don't like them), to the bathing resort at Sitges, etc. etc.

Calico has just issued an interesting auction of Spanish and Spanish American coins for the Spanish Numismatic Society and catalogues are available upon request at the office of X & F Calico 2 Plaza del Angel, Barcelona, Spain.

Many foreign visitors passed through New York the last few days and we heard of an interesting collection of Greek coins from Brazil being sold to a dealer in New York. Congratulations.

Howard Gibbs and his wife, Helen, are due at the Belmont Plaza next week for their Waldorf Astoria sale but Howard is flying back to Pittsburgh quickly to get ready to transfer his odd and curious monies to Cincinnati for the Kaplan-Kosoff combination to take over. What a delightful exhibit for a museum can be made of many sections of the Gibbs collection!

The great attraction of the Chase Manhattan Money Museum in New York has been the odd and primitive monies which have attracted millions of tourists and school children and must have been responsible for much new business in the bank. Gibbs collection is so large that four to five museums could obtain each a larger basic collection than the Chase Manhattan Bank.

$50 Bank Note Shows Worshipers

Whatever else they were—hardy, stern, resolute, brave—the Pilgrim fathers were religious—and their worship service just before they boarded the Mayflower to come to America is the subject of a beautiful reverse on the $50 National bank note, first charter period, series of 1863-1875.

Few people who handed the $50 across for some purchase or transaction ever stopped to visualize or realize the significance of the handsome engraving—for without

The Pilgrims did not exactly travel first class when they made the voyage in 1620 from Southampton to Plymouth!

There were 48 crewmen and 102 Pilgrim passengers packed into the little 180-ton ship for its 66-day crossing, according to the Catholic Digest.

There were 19 married men, 25 bachelors, 16 married women and one spinster and 39 children.

the scene depicted upon the bill, America might have had quite a different beginning!

Religion, or rather religious persecution, first turned the eyes of the Pilgrims toward the new world—they were persecuted by the king when they separated themselves from the Church of England at their Scrooby homes in north England.

They escaped across the North Sea and settled in Leyden, Holland, for 12 years. In spite of their own church (it still stands) they longed for freedom and decided to come to America "on credit."

They borrowed money from London merchants and rented the Mayflower. But before they boarded the tiny vessel, the 102 men, women and children knelt in prayer.

The eight-week voyage with its storms and winds and sickness is now history, and the year of 1620 is immortalized.

The landing in the raw December waves and biting winds is the subject of another note of the same first charter period—the reverse of a one dollar note, series 1865-1875, carries an artist's conception of the landing of the Pilgrims.

The men, hardened by the long weeks at sea, were barely able,

Reverence is the theme of the 50 dollar note of the National bank first charter series—the obverse shows Washington crossing the Delaware and Washington at prayer. The reverse has caught in spite of their strength, to control the small boats onto the Plymouth beach. The thin-cloaked mothers held their frightened, sobbing children close to them as the boats were buffeted and washed with icy waters. The artist succeeded in capturing the apprehension of the Pilgrims as they faced the raw New England shores.

The notes of the first charter period are recognized by collectors as outstanding in their beauty and significance as "objets d'art"—the reverses in green and black depict important historic events of American history.

Many of the scenes are famous paintings that may be seen in the nation's Capitol building, so rich in paintings, statues and frescoes that reflect the art forms of America down through the years.

Mountie Talks To Club On Counterfeits

Members of the Regina, Saskatchewan, Canada, Coin Club heard Sgt. C. C. Head of the Royal Canadian Mounted Police talk on counterfeiting, at their last meeting held in the Canadian Legion hall in Regina.

Sgt. Head, of the crime detection laboratory staff of the R. C. M. P., displayed many exhibits of bills, coins, molds and plates. Having recently visited the Canadian-owned plant of the British American Banknote Company, he was able to explain the detailed process of printing not only bank notes, but also stamps and other security documents.

Inks, paper, printing processes and plant security measures are all carefully chosen to reduce the possibility of counterfeiting, the speaker said.

"Every piece of paper larger than one square inch must be accounted for, twice daily," he pointed out.

He explained many methods of detecting counterfeit bills, and noted that the hardest job for a counterfeiter was reproducing the Queen's head and features as clearly as they are on regular bills.

The December meeting of the club will have on its program, a coin grading contest, and a talk on "Insuring Coin Collections," according to Dale Murray, club secretary.

Coins Suit Gamblers

Siamese bullet coins were fashioned in a balled shape so the gamblers of the nation could roll their losses across the game circle.

Arkansas Club Elects Officers

Ivy Gladin was elected president of the Phillips County, Arkansas, Coin Collectors Club at its first November meeting, held at the Chamber of Commerce in Helena.

The club meets twice monthly at the Chamber of Commerce in anyone interested in coin collecting is invited to attend.

New Club At Lorain, Ohio Meets Monthly

The second meeting of the newly organized Lorain Numismatic Association of Lorain, Ohio, was scheduled for Thursday evening, November 17, at the Lorain Slovenian Club, 31st and Pearl Avenue, Lorain.

At the organizational meeting, October 23, the constitution and by-laws were drawn up, and officers elected. Charter members present numbered 25. It was decided at this meeting, that regular sessions would be held on the fourth Thursdays of each month, with the exception of November's, at the same time and place.

According to club officials, it is hoped that not only will advanced or "senior" collectors be interested, but the beginning or junior collector. To this end, special junior fees have been set up of $1 plus 50 cents initiation fee.

Newly elected officers include: president, Robert W. Little; first vice president, William A. Nau; second vice president, Charles G. MacDonald; secretary, I r m a Dobrinski; treasurer, John Chernay; librarian, Margaret E. Nau; and board of governors, Dr. Louis Hait, John Thomas, and James Howard.

Rare Coin Defined By Museum Head

"A rare coin is one of which only two or three specimens at the most have ever been seen or published."

This is the definition set forth by Dr. John Walker, keeper of coins and medals at the British Museum, when he was asked to define a rare coin.

"And it's a rare coin indeed when you find one never seen before," declared the head of the vault-like numismatics section of the museum.

Here can be found one of the world's greatest collections of coins: They run to almost a million and date back to the beginning of coinage, about 600 B. C. in both Asia Minor and in China.

People go to the British Museum daily from all parts of the world, hoping to learn that their "rare coins" are of great value.

And daily, these amateur treasure seekers have to be told that the coins they unearthed or stumbled upon are worth only their metal value.

These inquiries led Dr. Walker to issue his definition of a rare coin.

Iowa Club Has Festival

Visitors from 48 towns were registered at the Fall Festival of Coins sponsored recently by the Ottumwa, Iowa, Coin Club in the grand ballroom of the Hotel Ottumwa.

Exhibits included Texas currency, trade dollar sets, Educational currency in Unc., full sets of Indian cents, gold and commemorative type sets and uncirculated coins owned by club members.

No auction was held, but bourse tables were occupied by 23 dealers. Special awards were given every hour.

Show officials included Ray Dueland, general chairman, and Earle E. Beman, bourse chairman.

Marysville Club To Hold Affair

There will be displays and special prizes for the members and guests.

R. H. Jackson is chairman of the entertainment committee; serving with him will be Robert Converse and Richard Pfarr.

Victorians Hold Banquet

The annual banquet of the Victoria Numismatic Society of Victoria, British Columbia, Canada, was held in early November and featured Willard Ireland, provincial archivist, as the main speaker.

Ireland presented an interesting talk on tokens. Allan Klenman served as master of ceremonies. Mrs. Roma George was chairman of the banquet committee.

Ottawa Club Revives Custom Of Banquet

Members who attended received as souvenirs a large round wooden dollar, suitably inscribed for the occasion.

Guests at the banquet included R. Eveleigh, Vancouver, a director of the Canadian Numismatic Association; Les Copan, president of the Vancouver Numismatic Club; Irene Smith, secretary, and Scott Simpson, member of the same club.

New Yorkers
To Name New Club Officers

The Triple Cities Coin Club of New York state has scheduled its annual election of officers for the December meeting, Tuesday, December 6, from a slate to be presented by the nominating committee.

Members of the committee, as appointed by president Fred G. Hunter, Binghamton, at the November meeting, comprise Merton Snyder, Johnson City; Paul Christiansen, Endicott; James F. Ruddy, Johnson City, and Eugene Rogers, Endicott.

New offices will be established, in addition to the regular ones, as arrangements have been made to name assistants to the treasurer and the secretary, and an executive committee. The nominating committee is expected to include these offices in its slate.

Present officers of the club, which includes Binghamton, Johnson City, and Endicott, are, besides Hunter, Thomas Novobilski, Johnson City, vice president; Robert Hailey, Endicott, secretary, and Paul Christiansen.

must be coins as I can read the name Sten Sture here, Sten Sture was an old king."

It was a correct observation. The coins, in total 600 pieces(!), were about 500 years old and all of silver!

Finds like this are not uncommon in old Europe. Recently I read about a big coin-find in Denmark and for about 20 years ago, about 15,000 coins were found in an old cellar in Stockholm.

Do you have any old gold coin from Sweden? Keep it well. Prices are increasing rapidly! Do you have any currency, keep them, too! Why? Because we are going to have a new design on all our currencies. Our paper-money today shows a portrait of the old King Gustav Vasa, who died in 1560. He will not be portrayed in the future. I do not know why, but it was funny to look at his long beard!

And do you collect medals? We have some but not very many medal-collectors here, and that's the reason why even rare medals can be bought for reasonable prices here. You can, for instance,

Rare Coins Found In Vending Bags

"Coin World" advertisers of vending machine coins can hold up their heads with pride. Horace Jones, editor of the Lyons, Kansas, Daily News, writes that he bought such a bag of cents and found a 1909-S VDB.

He says:

"I know many collectors have wondered whether such coins are untouched numismatically. Obviously these were — or some checker has lost his 'touch'."

still buy medals from The Thirty Years War (about 1630) for three, four dollars.

I have got very, very many letters from coin-collectors in U.S.A. during last month. Many thanks to all of you. I have had many good lessons. I have learned that the numbers of coin-collectors in U.S.A. is growing up rapidly, that Coin World is the best paper in the coin world etc.

I have also learned that Swedish coins are hard to get in USA, that it is a big demand for Scandinavian commemoratives and U. S. collectors more and more try to collect foreign items also. Good idea! Keep it up, and so long for today! See you later, friends!

Emblems Tell Story

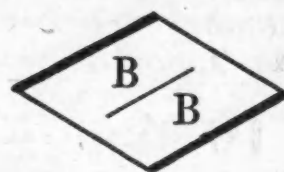

The rose, thistle and fleur-de-lis on early British coinage tell a story of bloody battles, long sieges, perils by land and sea, and ever-increasing power of the nation.

! PEACHTREE SPECIAL ! GOLD! GOLD! GOLD!

Many people in financial circles believe that gold will increase from $10.00 to $15.00 an ounce. We disagree completely with this for the reason that public and private debts of the American people are over $1 trillion. The amount of gold and silver behind this veritable mountain of paper debts and paper money is very small and we believe the rise in gold prices will gradually work out to over $100.00 an ounce. Maybe you think this is sales talk but if you will recall I have been constantly predicting an increase in price of gold. In the very near future we are going to market a book which will give you an insight into the gold market and the gold situation. Watch our future ads for this.

A STARTLING REVELATION IS ACKNOWLEDGED! SOMETHING HAD TO YIELD WITH COLD FACTS!

YES! months of rumors persisted around the clock, the lid was tight. But now pressure and heavy demand forces this clarification. It was discovered, but now fully uncovered for the first time.

THE MISSING LINCOLN CENT

This is the first shy winner to hit the 1960 line. This is not a common variety mint error cent. It is the sharp SIXTY CENTSA-TIONAL runaway, 1960-D. medium date cent over 1960-D small cent. This coin is pictured in the Oct. COIN PRESS. You must see to believe it. These are, as the Philo. cent shows complete, with a very low mintage.

SCARCE? you bet, it's a sizzling "RARE HOT" with a buying limit. This is not the large over the small date. This is absolutely a none controversy "PREMIUM" show coin winner. We have them, but not that many. This is unconditionally in our opinion the future "KEY COIN MEMORIAL CENT" and in BU condition at only $35.00 each. Remember the 1918/7 nickel and the 25c, or the 1942/1 dime, do you have one? Recall the 1955-P cent double strike and the 1869/8 Indian cent, they were discovered only a few years back. The lid blew off, the reaction was terrific and exciting.

YES! collectors and dealers were caught short, the price sky rocketed out of reach of small collectors, especially in the choice BU. This full medium date over the small date cent, how definitely makes all the overated common variety 1960 small dates OBSOLETE and FINISHED as a scarce future key coin, leaving an unsavory taste to the collectors, after all there were around 2,000,000 minted and only a small amount is in circulation, the rest are hoarded. WHY? not to exhibit them or put away as a future investment. We have checked bags after bags of 1960 cents to locate these "RARE FUTURE ITEMS". Months of frustrated research and labor was given to find and buy at PREMIUM TOP PRICES.

Definitely this is it, and a must for a "UNIQUE XMAS GIFT". Don't wait to buy later, we can only say, DON'T MISS THE BOAT. The early buyer gets the savings, the late buyer will pay a near future higher price, if any is left in stock. Sorry no rolls available, as far as we know none exist. That's right, you get "TOP CHOICE BU COND.", and all coins are carefully screened, hand selected and examined thoroughly, to be sure you get what we state as advertised. A 10X magnifying glass for close scrutiny is ideal for detail inspection of these "GENUINE MINT STRUCK" coins and fully guaranteed by us. Remember these are the complete medium date over small, and not one or two recut digits as adv. from $8.00 to $12.00 each. "WARNING" don't be misled, don't buy or accept one or two recuts as substitute, for medium over the small dates.

A true method to detect over small dates, will show the genuine distinctive, small slant die line above digit 9. This line was on the die produced at the mint. Remember your COMPLETE SATISFACTION IS A MUST, or return within 3 days of receipt. We will make immediate refund for coins or replace with another if you so desire. Prices are good for 2 weeks only, subject to change. Our finest stock is our first strikes. We have a few of these in stock, practically flawless BU "CHOICE BLOOM GEMS" beyond comparison and sharp struck at $45.00 each. We also have the large over small date at $25.00 each, condition as above.

LET YOUR INVESTMENT GO UP WITH THE SOARING SIX-TIES. We recommend both "GEMS" at $70.00 and compare the medium with the large, you will be happy with a special "UNIQUE MATCHED PAIR." Remember the first BU "SHARP STRIKES" are always the collectors RARE ITEMS. WATCH THIS ELUSIVE MEDIUM DATE OVER small, ACHIEVE THE MOST WANTED POSITION SINCE THE 1869/8 INDIAN CENT. NOTE—The large date cent covers more of the under date than the medium. The medium date EX-POSES MORE OF THE UNDER DATE AND SHOWS UP MORE CLEARLY.

Special—Complete large date over small at $20.00, these show light bag marks, but still a BU beauty. To facilitate the orders for fast dependable service, send cashiers checks or money orders. Add 35c for ins. and handling.

YES! A trade can be arranged. We need 1918/7 nickels and the 25c, also the 1942/1 dime and the 1955-P double strike cent. Will also accept these cents: 1908-S, 1909-S and the 1877. On the Lincolns: 1909-S, 1909-SYDB, 1910-S, 1911-S, 1912-S, 1913-S, 1914-S, 1915-S, 1922-P, 1924-D, 1926-S, 1931-S, 1933-P, 1933-D and the 3 leg 5c. Since you own the coins, you make the trades. We will exchange latest RED BOOK PRICES in trades.

WANTED — Medium over small cent, must be first strikes (sharp) BU at $20.00 each. WRITE! Let us know the quantity before shipping. Mrs. A. H. coins will be sold within 30 days unless picked up. Self-stamped envelope for inquiries.

Something to think about department. World War 2 came, and by a coincidence so did the 1942/1 dime. The "S" Mint closed in 1955, and by coincidence we get the 1955-P double strike cent. Here it is 1960. A new president was elected, and so we go around again, by coincidence we get the medium date over small date cent. WHAT GOES?, are these really coincidences, or ??, what about the other over dates, now talk to yourself.

SAVE 5 BARGAIN BASEMENT. One of each 1960-D cent BU at $60.00. One sharp and bold strike, BU medium date over small date cent. One large date over small, condition as above. One die variety, digit 6 is recut. A different die variety, digit 9 is recut. And a possible sleeper, ring around obverse, almost similar to the SCARCE and RARE 1911-S cent. We wonder what the future will bring on this coin alone.

ALL above coins will show light bag marks. Beat the XMAS RUSH AND ORDER EARLY FROM

Maryland Reader Reports Muddled Lincoln Cent Find

One of the more peculiar numismatic errors has turned up in the shape of a 1956 Lincoln cent, with regular obverse and reverse plus parts of another obverse on both sides, some in reverse and some correct.

This oddity was found by Charles Showe, Hagerstown, Maryland, who sent in the description to Coin World.

Over the date is "berly" in reverse, but below Lincoln is "In God" stamped correctly, as well as the normal motto in its usual place. There is also "In God" at the bottom of the reverse side, and a "Liberty" that comes down from the rim vertically to the top of E in One. Other letters show around the edge of the coin.

COMMENT: From Reader Showe's description, we could guess his coin was hit in the presses several times, possibly being turned over somehow in the process. We can only refer him to the Society of Collectors of Numismatic Errors, and we have a notion some of its members might be interested, although we are doubtful that the coin is a great rarity.

Finding a 1960-P cent in a sack of bank-wrapped 1960-D rolls startled Ted Schwartz, Livingston, New Jersey, until he spotted the faint outline of a "D" with a magnifier. Then he realized he had the same type of coin as the 1922-P cent. He found in all, a total of 14 in the sack.

COMMENT: Mr. Schwartz has our sincere sympathy for his find, and we are not being funny! Since the Philadelphia mint has coined a good many million 1960 cents, they are not rare, and to the general observer, that is all that Schwartz has found.

If there had been 1922-P cents minted, the 1922 plain would now be just another cent instead of a comparative rarity. So Schwartz' finds are either more 1960-P's or are 1960-D from partially filled dies which take a magnifier to prove.

Dr. Earl Parsons of Burlington, Iowa, has some 1942-S Walking Liberty half dollars with large and small S, and would like to know if this is a known variety.

COMMENT: We don't know about this specific date, but such differences do exist in other years and denominations. Mint mark dies can wear out or be replaced for other reasons, and the replacement could easily be a different size, just as the 1960 cent varieties arose from such replacement.

In previous years, not many collectors paid much attention to such things and they went unnoticed. Now there are collectors of Mint Errors and they are catching up. (Note: Raymond J. Larson, Secretary, Collectors of Numismatic Errors, 417 Hillcrest Dr., Plattsmouth, Nebraska.)

Jesse Durbin, Irvington, Ky., found in his change a 1944 Lincoln cent that has "the image of Lincoln and all the writing recessed and in reverse. The Liberty and motto read backward".

On the reverse, one cent reads backwards and is recessed instead of raised, as is E Pluribus Unum. United States of America is missing, the grain heads are well defined. The reverse is cross-wise to the bust instead of vertically lined up.

COMMENT: Mr. Durbin suggests this coin was a planchet which was struck between two other coins instead of between the dies. We agree, since he says it has the appearance and weight of an ordinary cent.

Key coins CAN be found in circulation! Harold E. Goodman, Tipton, Indiana, postcards that he found a 1909-SVDB in fine condition, and would like other collectors to know it can be done.

James J. Brophy of Dallas, Texas, writes of finding a Lincoln cent dated 0949-D. The 0 is slightly fainter than the balance of the numerals but quite clear.

Frank Zittlan, Garfield, New Jersey, writes about a find which seems to be similar to that of Jesse Durbin.

He says, "I have come across an Unc. 1959 with two memorials and the image of Lincoln's head. On the obverse, the print is backwards and not too hard to read, but the reverse is very clear and good. There is no date. The thickness is just like a good unc. cent should be."

COMMENT: From Zittlan's incomplete description which mentions the backward printing, we imagine it is another case of a planchet being hit by other coins instead of the die, but we could not say more without seeing the coin. Any comment from readers?

Half dollars come back into the picture with a letter from Salvatore Bracco of Brooklyn, N.Y., who writes that he has a walking Liberty half with a date that looks like a 1915, and a 1951-D Franklin with a double D.

Other unusual items turned up by Bracco include a Lincoln cent dated 19--, a 1949 nickel with a 9 instead of an S for mint mark, a 1950 cent with a 3 for a mint mark, a double-struck 1953-D cent and a 1944 cent with a 1 in front of Lincoln's chin.

is once again here. After such a busy year we are thankful that one day a year is put aside for us to think and remember how good life can be to us. Never in the history of man has man had so many material things, think of all the new comforts and luxury we now have. These are things to be Thankful for, but it seems to me that perhaps these things do not bring real happiness.

I am thankful for all the material things that this last year has brought me but both thankful and grateful for all the nice people that I have met during this year. I wish to take this time to thank YOU, the friends I have made, the customers, the suppliers of coin supplies and many people that I have met at the conventions for making this last year so happy. For without YOU I am nothing. I am Thankful for YOU and wish that all of you, on this day have as much to be Thankful for as I do.

Yours truly

Jack C. McKay

Poor To Very Fine Father-Son Experiences Aid To Novice Collectors

By James G. Johnson

The heading of this column describes the "average collection," and since this column is written for the benefit of the "average collector", it seems to be an appropriate title.

It is possible, also, that it may describe the average contents of this column, but the writer hopes that most of what he writes will be graded toward the high end of the measure, with less of it toward the bottom.

However, since no columnist ever pleases 100 per cent of his readers 100 per cent of the time, it is expected that some readers will grade a given item as "poor" while others would mark it higher in the scale, according to their own taste.

There is no "Brown and Dunn" in the field of opinion or of personal taste. "One man's meat is another man's poison", and "It is a difference of opinion that makes horse races", and all that.

So, with no apologies and no further ado, this column will proceed with facts and fancies. Any contributions from readers will be welcomed, and any questions will be given the best answers available, or an attempt will be made to find them.

Editor Dick says he wants me to "get personal" and play up the father and son angle, telling how we happened to start collecting together. That's an easy one, especially since I planned to give some suggestions for getting a coin collection going, using our own experiences as examples.

Jimmy Jr. (we don't call him "junior" and never did) was a newspaper carrier for Cleveland and Columbus papers in Alliance, Ohio. He made his weekly collections and noticed some odd coins, which later turned out to be "Barber" money, dimes, quarters and halves.

This was in the fall of 1949, and those coins were fairly common in circulation, as recently as that and even later.

He asked me about them and got no intelligent answers since I didn't know, either. But I inquired around and read one of Max Mehl's advertisements, Jimmy's grandparents happened to be spending the winter in Texas, and I asked them to get some sort of coin book. They did, and it turned out to be Whitman's Bluebook or Handbook and Jimmy got it for a Christmas present.

We both read it with much interest, checked some small change we had around, and found part of it had some "book" value. That was it, as far as we were concerned. As coin collectors, we were "in business".

Lincoln cents took our attention first. Jimmy would take his week's newspaper collection money to the bank on Saturday morning and exchange it for a sack of cents.

We would dump them on the (Continued on Page 31)

Almost Everyone Prefers America's First Family of Coin Albums

THE LIBRARY OF COINS

By Any Standard, Still The Best!

Complete visibility and complete protection, the two most-wanted features of a coin album, are presented for the first time by THE LIBRARY OF COINS. Bound like books, handsome and compact, each Library of Coins volume displays and protects its coins between two sliding panels of clear, tough plastic. Each coin "porthole" has printed next to it full data on mint mark and quantity minted. Each volume contains a brief background story on the coins, giving both the novice and advanced collector helpful information, including a listing of the rare dates.

Measuring 8 1/4" x 6 1/4", the volumes are low priced, sturdily manufactured, and permanently bound in a variety of identifying colors for the various denominations. Their compact size permits the storing of a large coin collection in very small space. Backbones are clearly gold stamped so that they are as readily identifiable as are books.

The Library of Coins represents the first major innovation in high grade coin albums in more than 30 years, and was several years in development. Designed by numismatists, the Library of Coins is designed to satisfy the needs and desires of numismatists. Write for descriptive circular on the Library of Coins.
